

God Loves His LGBTQ+ Children

In the Church of Jesus Christ in Christian Fellowship we fully accept the LGBTQ+ community. We will marry and/or seal same-sex couples for all time and eternity.

The Fellowship supports all marriages based on unity, love, and a committed relationship with God. People should marry someone they fall in love with, regardless of gender. At this point, the two become one with God.

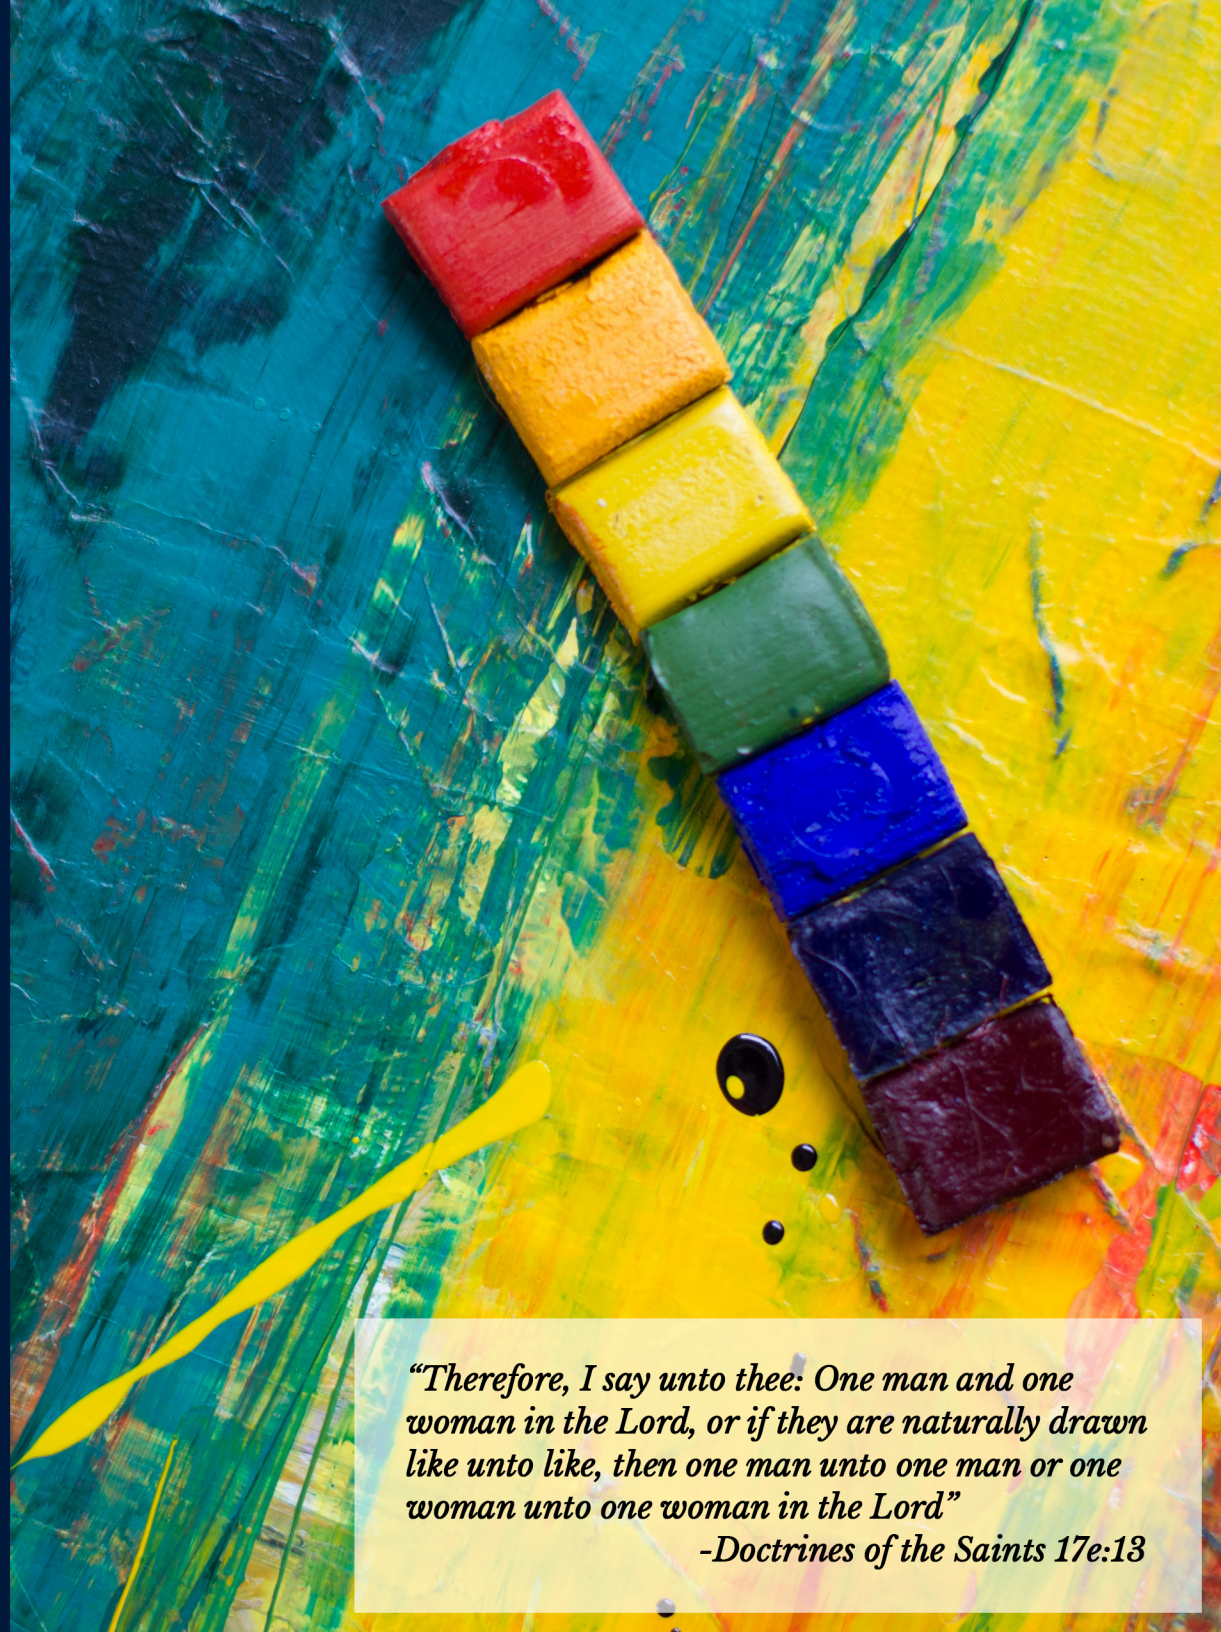

While we do not yet fully understand the nature of trans persons, we embrace them and accept them as the gender they identify with.

The very existence of the LGBTQ community is a controversial topic both in the Latter Day Saint movement and the world at large. Yet it is a simple matter to God: all human beings are His creations and we are to love them and allow them to find love.
